April 2st 2015, Daytona Beach, FL - Netherlands based manufacturer REV'IT! has confirmed their continued sponsorship of James "The Rocket" Rispoli.

REV'IT! manufactures top-of-the-line motorcycle armor for some of the world's most prominent racers. "As much fun as we have on the track, safety is still the number one priority." Rispoli commented. "REV'IT! makes the armor that Moto GP racers use, the quality is absolutely unmatched, and they're the only brand I can truly trust when it comes to saving my hide. Plus, have you seen the leather? It's beautiful!"

For the past two racing seasons, REV'IT! has been supplying Rispoli with the finest in bike armor and apparel. Rispoli elaborated on the psychology of possessing and utilizing the highest quality bike ware. "There is a defining moment before each race; putting on the new REV'IT! suit changes my state of mind completely. I become 100% focused on the track and nothing else matters. As a racer you can train all day long, but if you aren't psyched up to win, if you're aren't completely confident in yourself – you can't perform on the track. When I dawn my armor, I'm ready to conquer the circuit."

As we count down the final few days before the opening race, one thing is clear; Rispoli is sure to gain attention with his skills on the bike, and his state-of-the-art racing armor.
